This Month's Spotlight...

AJ MATTHEWS

AJ Matthews is a sophomore at Solano College studying to earn an Associates in History. They have applied to UC Davis and SF State for transfer in Fall 2025. They have been serving as the Associated Students of Solano College's Legislative Advocate after briefly serving as Public Relations Officer for a semester. Since being elected, AJ has written the school's Civic and Voter Empowerment Action Plan - a two-year strategy for civically engaging students, faculty, and staff. They then worked with local partners, such as the League of Women Voters, and internal partners, such as the Speech and Debate Club, Drama Club, and ASSC, to host a popular voter registration drive. AJ is also working closely with Solano College's Governing Board to represent students pursuing sanctuary designation and better nutrition on campus. They aim to enhance the school's strengths and help find areas where it may harm the students. They are so excited to be serving their community in higher education. This work is so rewarding; they are proud of their accomplishments and hope they are leading by example. They are constantly inspired by the student leaders with whom they are privileged to spend time.

OPPORTUNITIES

Get Involved with SSCCC and Beyond

Become a Delegate!

While this school year may be coming to a close, we are looking for students wishing to serve as delegates for the 2025-2026 school year! If you are interested, please reach out to your local student body association for further information on the process for your campus. We look forward to seeing you next year!

Student Internships

Interning or shadowing at your state capital typically involves applying through a formal internship program offered by your state legislature, governor's office, or specific state agencies. Start by visiting your state government's official website to find information about available opportunities, eligibility requirements, and application deadlines. These programs often require a resume, personal statement, and letters of recommendation. It can also help to reach out to your local state representative or senator to express your interest—they may be able to sponsor or support your application. Once accepted, you'll have the chance to attend committee hearings, assist with legislative research, and gain firsthand experience in how state policies are developed and implemented.

Check out this link below for other internship opportunities!
